

No Court Appeal By Don Williams

Says Job Over As City Finance Commissioner

Defends Court Action and Attempts For Council Harmony

Don Williams

Don Williams, Harrisburg insurance man, announced he was not appealing the circuit court decision that removed him from the Harrisburg city council.

Williams said that his job as finance commissioner was over with the finding of Judge C. Ross Reynolds last week that the post of finance commissioner should be declared vacant because Williams had moved outside the city limits since his election.

Immediately following the decision it was announced that Williams would appeal the decision, but Williams today said he would not.

"I could have prolonged my removal for months by appealing but I have decided against it," Williams declared.

Explains Action

Williams was ousted on quo warranto proceedings filed by Mayor Claud Gibbons and Commissioner Morris Darnell.

Speaking of the quo warranto proceedings and his defending the action, Williams stated:

"The laws of the State of Illinois gave me the privilege of remaining as your commissioner until the office was declared legally vacant by the court. I thought it advisable to use this privilege for a number of reasons.

"In the first place," he continued, "being a business man in our city, I have continued to have the same unselfish interests of the community at heart as the vast majority of the public and I felt that the technicality that I had moved a few hundred yards over the city limits would not affect my work as your finance commissioner. Sought Harmony

"Also, I could foresee that if I resigned abruptly without a replacement being agreed upon by the remaining four council members, there could be confusion and it would be the city that would suffer.

"I suggested a number of times that I would gladly resign if a replacement were chosen satisfactory to the remaining council members, but the mayor refrained from even calling a meeting to discuss the matter, stating that there would first have to be a vacancy before a replacement could be agreed upon.

"I have earnestly wanted the council to work in harmony on all matters and one letter has been published in the Daily Register urging the council to stop its bickering and get down to business.

Hits Action Of Mayor

"But sometimes it is humanly impossible to work in harmony. The council minutes will show that the mayor has taken it upon himself to make a purchase involving a large expenditure without even getting the approval of the council. They also will show he has refused to entertain motions made by council members on certain actions when he did not wish approval and could see that a majority of the members desired passage, giving as his reason it was for the betterment of the city."

"Such autonomy surely cannot be proper procedure."

Williams said "I sincerely feel that the issue has been deeper than Don Williams' place of residence."

"I hope my fears have been erroneous, that the council can get together on the replacement and on all matters of importance to the city. And I sincerely wish to thank all my supporters—those who elected me to office, those who contributed to my defense fund and those who have given me so many words of encouragement."

Legion Chief Says Administration Is 'Out of Step'

Opposes Foreign Aid, Status of Forces Agreements

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—National American Legion Commander W. C. (Dan) Daniel today accused the Eisenhower administration of "being completely out of step" with the thinking of the people in such instances as foreign economic aid and the status of forces agreements.

Daniel said in his report to 3,113 delegates at the opening business session of the Legion's 39th national convention that his travels around the country convinced him that "the average American citizen has a far clearer insight into what our foreign policy should be than do many of our so-called experts."

He said the Legion opposed foreign aid because "if recent history proves anything, it proves that you cannot buy friends over the bargain counter as you would common merchandise. Economic aid to foreign countries both friendly and unfriendly has proven itself ineffective as a long-term instrument of foreign policy."

Daniel said the Japanese murder trial of Army Specialist William S. Girard "brought into sharp focus the need for a revision of many international agreements. One of the great threats to our security is the undermining of our constitutional rights. Those constitutional guarantees must be held equally sacred for the citizen within our boundaries and for the serviceman on foreign soil."

He emphasized that the guilt or innocence of Girard was not the Legion's business, but its primary concern is the protection of his rights as an American citizen.

The convention was opened officially Monday with a 10-hour parade of servicemen and veterans before 125,000 persons on the famous boardwalk here.

Mr. Dutton, a dairy farmer, has been a member of the SIBA since 1946, one year after it was organized.

The Duttons live on a 100-acre farm northwest of Harrisburg, which they purchased in 1939. At present they have a herd of twenty pure bred Guernsey cows and average 60 gallons of milk per day. There also are 16 heifers on the farm.

Mr. Dutton is active in other organizations dedicated to improved farming practices, being a member of the Farm Bureau, Saline County Soil Conservation District, is a member of the board of directors of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation agency and his children have actively participated in 4-H work.

New Storm in Gulf Headed For Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Louisiana coastal residents were warned today, for the third time in three months, to prepare for possible evacuation in the face of a tropical storm moving northward through the Gulf of Mexico.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said that tropical storm Esther, packing 50 mile an hour winds, was centered about 270 miles south of the west Louisiana coast. It was moving northward at a forward speed of 10 miles an hour.

The South Louisiana coastal region has been hit twice by tropical storms in recent months. One of them, Hurricane Audrey, caused widespread death and destruction. The second was much less severe but it led to mass evacuations.

An increase in size and intensity was predicted for today and tonight.

Meanwhile, Hurricane Carrie was reported headed toward her end in the North Atlantic.

New Industry For Chester

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Kenneth J. Gray (D.) Ill., today announced that the United States Air Force had signed a $1,516,750 contract including options, with a Chester, Ill., concern, thereby establishing a new industry for Chester. Gray said the Security Manufacturing Company of Chester today entered into a contract with the Shelby Air Force Base Depot, Shelby, Ohio, to manufacture fire protective clothing needed by the Air Force.

Today's announcement culminated a long battle to receive the Air Force contract, Gray said. "Big business competitive bidders" from out of the State of Illinois entered protests and used all possible means to void Security's bid, which made it necessary for him to intercede and pursue the matter thru the United States Departments of Labor and Air Force in Washington.

Gray said since Security is a new corporation, protests were filed under Section 1-A of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act alleging that a new corporation should not be organized to perform the work.

Gray said after several conferences with Stuart Rothman, solicitor of the U. S. Department of Labor, he was able to get a ruling in favor of the new Chester concern.

Gray said the new corporation would be of great economic benefit to Southern Illinois and he was hopeful that today's action would be the beginning of many more government contracts and added pay rolls for the new concern.

Tight Money Policy Defended By Humphrey

Helps Check Menace Of Inflation, Ex- Treasury Sec'y Says

CHICAGO (AP)—Ex-treasury Secretary George Humphrey warned Monday night that relaxation of the Eisenhower administration's "tight money" policy would be "utter folly."

Although the administration's monetary and fiscal policies have not fully overcome inflationary pressures, Humphrey said, they have "substantially checked the menace of inflation."

The former Cabinet member spoke to more than 2,000 persons at a $100-a-plate "George Humphrey Appreciation Dinner" sponsored by the United Republican Fund of Illinois.

In urging support for the administration's policies which "may already be taking hold," Humphrey asked for the cooperation of the public, business, and labor, to join in the fight against inflation by demanding fair prices, buying wisely, and borrowing conservatively.

A return to "Democratic policies of the past, with mounting debts and deficits" will not solve the inflationary pressures, he said. Republicans must unite "to overcome demagogic propaganda for political ends and avoid return to unsound practices which can lead ultimately to the destruction of the very freedoms which have made America great," he said.

Higher interest rates are beneficial to persons with savings, Humphrey said in defense of the rates which accompany the "tight money" policy.

Patience is needed to "let our present policies work," he said, and the effectiveness of these policies must not be underestimated. The rise of consumer prices in 16 of the past 17 months and a 5 per cent increase in the consumer price index are "the problems of prosperity," he said, and can be solved "by a united people supporting the leadership of a dedicated Republican administration."

Federal, state and municipal governments should join with businessmen and consumers in holding the line against excessive spending, he said.

$150,000 Fire Hits Salem

SALEM, Ill. (AP)—Damage resulting from a blaze which roared through a lumber company into a residential area today was estimated at $150,000.

The fire which swept through Edward H. Stewart's lumberyard Monday, caused heavy damage to two nearby homes, destroyed a garage, and peeled paint on buildings within a block of the blaze.

Mrs. Evelyn Thompson said she was unable to contact the fire department by phone due to a strike of Communication Workers of America. Stewart said part of the damage was covered by insurance.

Nearby Sandoval and Centraire fire departments and men from their fire equipment to assist in fighting the flames.

The fire was the second in the area Monday, authorities said, in which heavy damage was caused due to phone delays stemming from a strike of the phone installers. A barn was destroyed when a farm couple drove about 7 miles to town to report the blaze, they said.

Under Martial Law

Thailand Army Seizes Power in Bloodless Coup; Premier Missing

BANGKOK (AP)—The Thailand army seized power early today in a bloodless coup that overthrew the pro-Western government of Premier Pibul Songgram. The country was placed under martial law.

Pibul, himself an army field marshal, was missing and there was no reply to repeated broadcasts from Radio Bangkok: "Please report as soon as possible. Please report as soon as possible."

The revolt against Pibul, a staunch friend of the United States, was led by one of his longtime supporters, Field Marshal Sarit Thanarat.

Sarit has been a power behind the throne for years. He has never publicly declared his position in the East-West struggle. However, he is considered pro-Western. Pibul apparently had advanced word of the coup and fled before the army's tanks and soldiers began rolling out of army headquarters Monday night to seize the strategic strongpoints in this storied city.

The coup was one of the quietest in Thailand's turbulent history, partially because it occurred on a Buddhist holiday when government offices and schools were closed.

When the 48-year-old Sarit made his move there was no resistance. Police headquarters were taken over smoothly and swiftly. It took less than five minutes to accomplish the job although the 50,000 man police force is rated on a par with the army.

Within an hour bridges, communications offices and transportation headquarters were under Sarit's control.

SIU Small Business Institute Program Helps Area, Bedwell Tells Rotary

Some of the things that the Small Business Institute of Southern Illinois University is doing were discussed before members of the Rotary club Monday by Ralph Bedwell. Bedwell said that for more than twenty years, local and regional civic groups have encouraged the establishment and relocation of larger industries in Southern Illinois. Now Southern Illinois University has established the Small Business Institute to help its own students start small industries and other businesses and to point out business opportunities available.

Mr. Bedwell stated that the University feels that it can help more graduates become "job makers" as well as "job takers" by assisting young men and women to explore ideas for new business that develop from the classroom, laboratory or home.

Through a four year program of courses and work experience, the student is given the training most suited for the business he or she has decided to start. After leav-

Shawnee Ass'n Protests Lack of Repair On Posey

State Division of Parks, Monuments Official at Meeting

At the request of a representative of the Division of State Parks and Monuments, Illinois Department of Conservation, the Shawnee Recreation association Monday night voted to spend an available $30,000 allotted to Old Shawneetown for further restoration of the big state bank building.

There was considerable discussion, and a bit of indignation shown, by members regarding the deterioration of the Posey building, where Robert Ingersoll once practiced law. All were in accord with the idea of improving the bank building, but there was some antagonism when Richard Hagen, representing the Division of Parks and Monuments, said there was $30,000 available, that the state hoped to restore the bank building as much as possible with this amount.

"With $30,000 we can do nothing on the Posey building," Hagen stated. "We would need at least $75,000 or $100,000."

Aaron Wants Repair

He spoke to the group at its regularly monthly meeting at the Eldorado Methodist Education building.

Louis Aaron of the Saline County Historical society, which has been a driving force to get restoration of the bank and the Posey building—both owned by the state—as well as restoration of other places, took exception to Hagen's remarks that nothing could be done immediately about the Posey building.

"If the Posey building falls down it is gone forever," the Harrisburg resident said. "I think if the south wall were repaired now, it would stand a long time and I think this could be done."

Hagen then said "we would have to do more than that—we would have to put footings under the entire building to shore it up—I don't believe repairing the wall would be sufficient."

State Representative Gordon Kerr of Brookport said he had talked with William Allen, superintendent of Parks and Monuments, about Old Shawneetown and quoted Allen as saying it would be almost impossible to restore the Posey building. He quoted Allen further as saying it had been proposed that the building be removed and a marker be placed on the site.

Asks For Vote

The marker idea did not set well with association members interested in the preservation of Old Shawneetown.

Kerr pointed out that money already has been spent on the bank building—on the foundation and around the flue.

Hagen said there is a general feeling the bank building is outstanding in architecture in the United States, that the Posey building has no nationwide significance.

"Why did the state buy the Posey building if it didn't intend to do anything about it?" Aaron asked.

Lack of funds by the division was the answer given.

Mrs. Earl Hancock of Harrisburg pointed to the historical significance of the Marshall bank building, which is privately owned.

At that point Hagen said he wanted a vote taken by the association on what to do with the $30,000. Upon motion by Atty. Don Scott, Harrisburg, it was voted that the money be spent on the bank building and if possible, to

School Peace At Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Students went to class in "normal" numbers today at seven newly integrated Nashville elementary schools where a Federal Court injunction kept the peace.

The situation at the beginning of the second week of first-grade racial mixing was in sharp contrast to troubled conditions that existed a week ago.

Segregationist John Kasper and nine persons accused with him of stirring up trouble here last week were under preliminary federal injunction to keep hands off the gradual integration program.

Kasper pleaded innocent today when arraigned on a charge of inciting to riot. Court officials said his case is expected to come up about the middle of November.

In proceedings lasting only about 30 seconds, Kasper came into Criminal Court, pleaded innocent and was taken back to the Davidson County jail.

Principals of all of Nashville's integrated schools, including the Hattie Cotton School that was heavily damaged by a dynamite blast a week ago, reported attendance "normal." The turmoil and violence that accompanied the start of integration last week had kept hundreds of pupils at home. Among other developments in the South's racial problem were the following:

ALEXANDRIA, Va. — Arlington County school officials planned to seek a stay, today or Wednesday, of a federal court order that would permit seven Negroes to attend all white schools Monday. The school board plans to appeal the order, compliance with which would mean the first failure in Virginia's elaborate machinery set up to circumvent the Supreme Court's integration rulings.

MIAMI — Florida Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin said he believes some southern states have misinterpreted the Supreme Court's rulings on school integration—that the court "has by no means indicated that it is ready to 'jump off the deep end' by requiring immediate integration."

JACK ANDERSON Says:
Clean-up Crew Discovers Secret Of Lyndon Johnson's Charm; Lobbyist Rides Two-way Gravy Train; French Warn Algeria May Be Split.
WASHINGTON. — While cleaning out Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson's desk the other day handymen discovered 10 typewritten rules for "getting people to like you."

Those who know likable Lyndon believe the list may be the secret of his political charm. The 10 rules seem to be tailored to fit his personality (or vice versa).

No more ingratiating politician has ever stalked the Capitol corridors than the lean Texan. He is not the backslapping, but more the back-hugging type. He is often seen in a two-man huddle, his huge arm wrapped around a colleague's shoulder, his lips close to a colleague's ear.

That persuasive arguments are whispered therein is evident from Lyndon's remarkable success as Senate leader. Few have operated with such slight grinding of political gears.

The rules found in Johnson's desk are typed in the jumbo print he uses for easy reading on paper that shows signs of much fingering. Key words are underlined, exactly as follows:

"1. Learn to remember names.
Inefficiency at this point may indicate that your interest is not sufficiently outgoing.

"2. Be a comfortable person so there is no strain in being with you. Be an old-shoe, old-hat kind of individual.

"3. Acquire the quality of relaxed easy-going so that things do not ruffle you.

"4. Don't be egotistical. Guard against the impression that you know it all.

"5. Cultivate the quality of being interesting so people will get something of value from their association with you.

"6. Study to get the 'scratchy' elements out of your personality, even those of which you may be unconscious.

"7. Sincerely attempt to heal on an honest Christian basis, every misunderstanding you have had or now have. Drain off your grievances.

"8. Practice liking people until you learn to do so genuinely.

"9. Never miss an opportunity to say a word of congratulation upon any one's achievement, or express sympathy in sorrow or disappointment.

"10. Give spiritual strength to people, and they will give genuine affection to you."

French Premier Bourges Man-

embassy he will have no choice but to partition revolt-torn Algeria unless he gets American support.

Such a partition, he predicted, will result in at least half of Al-with France in the United Nations debate on Algeria.

Meanwhile, Foreign Minister
Pineau during his Washington vis-

he said, are transparent bluffs

Pineau got this criticism off his French statesman wound up by saying there would be no crisis in the Mideast today if France, Britto take care of Egypt last fall.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you.
Just sprinkle a little FASTEREETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (den-ture breath). Get FASTEREETH at any drug counter.

In A Word . . .

Cotton

The basic surgical absorbent . . . cotton . . . has long been known throughout the world for its many first-aid uses. Its history covers most of the globe.

Our word "cotton" comes from the Spanish cotton — which in turn is derived from the Arabic qutun — the word which designates the cotton plant. Perhaps the word was made popular by the many merchants who carried on lively trade in goods between Asia and Europe . . . or it may be that the Moors brought the word with them when they overran Spain in the 8th century.

The Eastern origin of the term is not surprising, inasmuch as cotton has grown in both wild and cultivated form for many centuries in the Arab countries — in fact, in many parts of Asia. The people of India, for example, have cultivated cotton for some 26 centuries.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's sketch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

MR. AND MRS. LOWELL WAYNE HISE, who were married Aug. 17 at Dallas, Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hise of Harrisburg.

Lowell Wayne Hise Married To Texas Girl

Betty Ileen Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover H. Rice, 1311 Diceman avenue, Dallas, Texas, and Lowell Wayne Hise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hise of Harrisburg, were married in the First Baptist church of Oak Cliff, Texas, at 8 o'clock in the evening of Aug. 17. Rev. Robert Weissinger performed the double-ring ceremony before the altar decorated with floral arrangements and candelabras bearing tall burning tapers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a wedding gown of imported Chantilly lace and silk tulle, of ice blue color. The moulded lace bodice was fashioned with a deep V neckline and long tapered sleeves ending in petal points over the hands. Tiny covered buttons extended along the back and closed the wrist openings. The floor length skirt was styled of lace over satin and was worn over hoops. Back ruffles of lace and tulle cascaded to a sweeping train. Her finger tip length veil of illusion was secured to a crown of sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis, centered with an orchid.

Miss Vida Mae Dancy, Dallas, Texas, close friend of the bride, served as her maid of honor. She wore a dress of light blue chiffon and her flowers were blue.

Ted E. Davis, Dallas, Texas acted for the bridegroom as his best man.

Joanne Kay Wagner was flower girl and Tony Innman was ring bearer.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of black with white dots for her daughter's wedding.

The mother of the bridegroom was unable to attend. The wedding marches were played on the church organ and the solos, "Became" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung.

There was a reception immediately following the wedding ceremony. Decorations for the reception were blue and white with wedding bells and candles complementing the tiered wedding cake.

The bride attended Maumee high school in Maumee, Ohio and has been employed as a salesgirl in Dallas, Texas.

Mr. Hise was graduated from HTHS, class of 1950, and had formerly been a carrier boy for the Daily Register. He attended SIU and served three years with the U. S. Marines. He is a bookkeeper and salesman for a Dallas, Texas business firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Hise are expected to visit in Harrisburg during the summer of 1958.

Peterson said, "You . . . you don't understand marshal. To you, this is just a matter of getting Dorsey back. To us, it's much, much more. You don't have any right to talk to me like that, not without knowing the town."

"What are you afraid of?"

"Afraid?"

"Yes, this whole town, afraid. Are you foolish enough to think that a many bunch of hide hunters can keep this town alive?"

"The hide business is the life of this town."

"Sure, it is! Now! But are you so blind you think it can go on forever?"

"I saw a herd out there on the prairie today as big as any I've ever seen."

"Yes," Blanchard said, "and eight bulls to a cow. And the guns blasting from Canada down into Texas, the railroads reaching out to more hide towns like this one every day, tanneries begging for hides at good prices. You've got two or three years, Mr. Peterson, and so has this town, unless you find something better to feed on than buffalo."

There was quiet for a few seconds. Then Blanchard said, "You're wrong, Mr. Peterson, dead wrong. In five years, there'll be enough homesteaders along this river to give this town a solid footing. They'll need this town. This prairie is due to be plowed up, just like up north. Blue Springs doesn't have to be afraid."

"I . . . I don't know, marshal. Maybe you're right. All I know for sure is that our trouble started when you came to town."

"Your trouble started the first day you kow-towed to the Clements. You let men like that get a jump on you and they don't know where to stop. You've got to show them where."

It got so interesting I stepped back inside. Peterson was standing behind his desk. I could see the cigar shaking in his hand and ashes dropping to the floor.

"What can I do?"

Blanchard looked at me, like he wanted me to say something. I didn't know what to say. I shrugged. Peterson was troubled bad. I could see. His back wasn't near so stiff now, his hand not so steady.

Blanchard said, "You wanted to deal with Pike. Deal with me."

Peterson put out the cigar, not half smoked, on a corner of the desk. "I don't think I could deal with you."

"Try," Blanchard said.

"What do you want?"

"Listen. I want you to do what you should have done a long time ago. This town has got to stand solid against the Clements."

"That's insane . . ."

"No. They wouldn't have taken Dorsey off that train in the first place if they'd had anything to fear from the town. You had a good marshal, from all I hear. All you'd had to do was given McNabb some backing."

"I won't argue that," Peterson said. "That's done."

"But the rule is still good. Maybe it's not too late. You could carry the town with you. Or drive it ahead of you, like you've been doing. This town has got to make a stand against the Clements, before it's too late."

"That would bring open war."

"No. I have reason to believe they're edgy now. I'm thinking they might bring Dorsey back to me. They bought more than they can pay for. If the town got its back up now, it might tip it our way."

Peterson walked to a window and looked out across the tracks at the loaded bone racks. I wondered what he saw there. He said, "Then . . . what then? What if they bring him back?"

"Then I take him and go. The trouble is over."

"Without punishment for . . . the ones who took him?"

"Both parties to a bargain got to have something to trade. They've got Dorsey. To get him, I've got to give up something. So, after I leave, I'm willing to pretend that nothing happened. If I leave with Dorsey."

"I see," Peterson said. "Of course, you're guessing, marshal. You have your reasons for believing as you do, but you're guessing. Suppose the town made the stand you ask for. You mentioned a bargain. For our part, we'd have to threaten to drive these parties out, or bring them to justice, if they didn't turn the man loose. Do you know what that involves?"

"I think so," Blanchard said.

Peterson grunted low in his throat. He turned away from the window. "You're asking us to accept your judgment in this thing. You've been here two, three days and we've had nothing but trouble since you came. You think the townspeople would accept your judgment?"

I said, "They better." I was surprised at my nerve. Blanchard looked at me. I got his message: Keep my horns out of it.

"They might," Blanchard said. "These men had some courage once, or they wouldn't be in this country. Once a man has got a feel of courage, he remembers how good it was."

"Courage, you say. Remember, marshal, when this is over you leave Blue Springs. The rest of us have to stay here and live with the consequences of what we do now."

Blanchard said, "You can't get away from something like this. Trouble carries a taint. If you run from it when you shouldn't the taint goes with you."

Peterson said, "I'll have to talk to people."

Gates left Harrisburg Thursday and went from St. Louis, Mo., by T. W. A. airlines, to San Francisco en route to Travis Air Force Base, Calif., on his way to Japan, where he expects to be stationed for one year. He is a graduate of SIU, class of 1955, and has been in the Air Force for 18 months, serving at Ellington Air Force Base, Houston, Texas, and Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida.

U. S. Announces New H-Bomb Tests Next Year

WASHINGTON — The United States pushed plans today for new H-bomb tests next spring and offered to let the world come see how "clean" the dreaded hydrogen bomb can be.

A government announcement of the tests also hinted at development of new means of defense against any Soviet intercontinental missile attack, but did not elaborate.

Underscoring the failure of recent disarmament talks, the Atomic Energy Commission and Defense Department announced jointly yesterday a new test series will be held beginning next April at the Eniwetok proving grounds in the Pacific.

While the announcement specified only "nuclear" tests, Eniwetok is used almost entirely for H-bomb explosions. Tests with less potent atomic weapons are currently being conducted at the Nevada proving grounds here in the United States. Russia also is currently conducting tests. Whether they are atomic or hydrogen bombs has not been divulged.

President Eisenhower and U. S. atomic officials have stressed this country's emphasis on developing a "clean" bomb that would not spew its deadly fallout on vast numbers of civilians far from military objectives.

Proxmire to Speak in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD — U. S. Sen. William E. Proxmire, newly elected Democrat from Wisconsin, will be the principal speaker here Sept. 28 at the organizational dinner of the Democratic Federation of Illinois.

Proxmire, who is a native of Lake Forest, Ill., was elected to fill the unexpired term of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy. The Democratic federation is a new volunteer party organization, separate from the regular party machinery.

The railway service began in 1838, when President Van Buren signed the act establishing it.

Father of Five Charged with Trying To Poison Sick Wife

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Eugene Podziemski, father of five children, is out on bail under charges of trying to kill his sick wife with poisoned pastry.

His father, a wealthy retired baker, posted $10,000 bail.

Podziemski, 36, was charged with attempted homicide Monday. He confessed to Milwaukee police that he poisoned pastries and brought them to his wife Phyllis 37, undergoing treatment at a Milwaukee hospital for a nervous disorder.

Podziemski's wife informed police she suspected her husband of trying to poison her several months ago by putting rat poison in her coffee. Podziemski confirmed his wife's suspicions in his confession to police.

Love letters found in the glove compartment of Podziemski's car were signed by a "June," who, Podziemski told police, visited him at Chanute Field, Ill., last June with her brother.

Police said they found two other letters, one signed by "Mary" and the other by "Nib." Podziemski offered no explanation of them.

Bell Service Near Normal

CHICAGO (UP) — Illinois Bell Telephone Co. officials today reported service was "approaching normal" in 42 Illinois communities affected by the nationwide strike of telephone installers.

Picket lines kept an estimated 2,900 workers who belong to the same union as the striking installers away from their jobs in the state and the three additional Indiana communities served by Illinois Bell.

Illinois Bell serves a total of 292 communities in Illinois and Indiana with a total of some 44,000 employees. A spokesman said that approximately 12,800 were within the jurisdiction of the striking union. Since the dispute originates with the installers, the firm spokesman said, other members of District 5, Communication Workers of America were respecting the walkout only at those exchanges where pickets appeared.

Communities where picket lines have been established included Lockport, Geneva, Elgin, McHenry, Rockford, Woodstock, Sterling, Aurora, Waukegan, Ottawa, Kankakee, Alton, Centralia, Decatur, Champaign, Peoria, Rock Island, Quincy, Springfield, Mount Vernon, Danville, La Salle, Effingham, Salem, Vandalia and Beardstown.

FBI Agents Will Not Escort Pupils, Hoover Says

WASHINGTON (UP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today that FBI agents will not be deputized to escort Negro children to the schools in Little Rock, Ark.

He said he issued the statement because "reports . . . are being circulated that FBI agents would be deputized to cooperate to maintain order."

These reports, he said, "are utterly without foundation. Such a practice would be in direct conflict with the long-established policy of the FBI and the Justice Department."

"The assignment of the FBI to local police duties under the circumstances would be repugnant to our concept of the federal-state relationship and I would not be a party to injecting the FBI into an assignment that would so closely resemble a national police."

Hoover's statement appeared to be in answer to a published report here that FBI men would move in when the National Guard troops are withdrawn from Central High School in Little Rock.

Ike Discusses 1959 Budget with Brundage, Deputy

NEWPORT, R. I. (UP) — President Eisenhower conferred today with Director of the Budget Bureau Percival Brundage and his newly appointed deputy director of the bureau, Maurice H. Stans.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said they discussed the budget for fiscal 1959 which will be presented to the next Congress.

Eisenhower also talked with the budget officials about the mid-year review of the present budget and the financial status of the government. The review is to be made public Oct. 1.

The president completed some dictation before seeing Brundage and Stans and left for the golf course immediately after the 45-minute meeting.

Eisenhower also will fly back to Washington next Monday to make two brief speeches and attend a meeting of the National Security Council at the White House. He will return to Newport Monday afternoon.

Nationwide Celebration by Democratic Women

WASHINGTON (UP) — Democratic women begin a nationwide celebration Wednesday, saluting themselves with everything from fish fries and guessing games to silver teas and formal dances.

The occasion is the 18th annual observance of Democratic Woman's Day. Started by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1939, the celebration is nowhere near running out of steam even in this non-election year, according to this year's chairman Mrs. Florence Kerr.

Seize Passport of First of 41 Americans To Tour Red China

HONOLULU (UP) — The State Department today seized the passport of Earl Richard Williamson, 28, first of 41 Americans who toured Red China to return to U. S. territory.

A U. S. customs official who refused to identify himself picked up the passport and informed Williamson he had been instructed to take the action following Williamson's arrival here from Manila.

Williamson, a former Oakland, Calif., high school chemistry teacher, said, "It was not a matter of my consent."

"I will seek legal counsel upon my return to the mainland," he said.

make repairs on the Posey building.

Next Meeting at Vienna President George Scherrer of Shawneetown presided and Sen. Glen O. Jones reviewed the growth of the association, organized in June, 1956, to boost the tourist industry in southeastern Illinois, for the benefit of newcomers.

"We feel we have made considerable progress in telling people to come and see what we have," Sen. Jones said.

Jack Calhoun of the Department of Conservation spoke about the forthcoming deer season, the first in Illinois since 1900, and stated the demand for hunting permits for deer had not been as big in the southern part of the state as the department had figured.

"You have a deer range that will sustain deer hunting over a period of years," he stated.

Also speaking were James Fitzgerald, head of law enforcement, in the Department of Conservation and Brockett Bates, of the Division of Parks and Memorials.

At the conclusion of the meeting William H. Farley of Harrisburg showed colored movies of the Hambletonian horse racing classic at the Du Quoin state fair.

Next meeting will be at Vienna Oct. 21.

Paralyzed Girl, 16, Elopes with Husky Boy Friend

CHICAGO (UP) — A 16-year-old polio victim, paralyzed from the waist down, today phoned her mother from New York to inform her she had eloped with her husky boy friend.

Marion Halstead Lilac had been the object of a police search since she disappeared Sunday when her boy friend took her to a movie.

News of her marriage dispelled fears she had met with foul play.

"I hope to God it's an elopement," her father, Burton Halstead, had said when she failed to return with her escort, Eugene Lilac, 23.

Lilac had apparently driven to Tonawanda, N. Y., to his father's home to marry the crippled girl.

The Halsteads said earlier they approved of their prospective son-in-law and knew their daughter would come to no harm while with Lilac, a 210-pound furnace repairman.

Chief Justice Harold P. O'Connell of Cook County Criminal Court late Monday granted a delay until Oct. 1.

O'Connell acted on a plea from Carpenter's attorneys that they needed more time to appeal a jury verdict in which the defendant was found sane.

Carpenter was convicted and sentenced to death for slaying a detective while being sought for a Chicago robbery spree.

Maglie Says Yankees Should Have Little Trouble Beating Braves

NEW YORK (AP) — Sal Maglie, who ought to know the National League about as well as anyone, feels the Yankees should have little trouble beating Milwaukee in the World Series—provided that the Braves can hang on and win the pennant.

As a matter of fact, Old Sal believes that if the Yankees beat Warren Spahn of the Braves in the first game, they'd have an excellent chance to make it a four-game sweep.

"The way I look at it, we're a much better ball club overall than the Braves," said the 40-year-old right hander, disdaining the ball-players' customary taboo about discussing the Series until the pennant has been clinched.

"We're stronger from any angle you look at it—pitching, hitting or defense," he went on.

Maglie, who pitched for three National League champions during his nine seasons with the Giants and Dodgers, is not eligible to play in this year's Series because he was acquired by the Yankees after the Aug. 31 eligibility deadline.

"The Barber" thinks that the deep left-center field contour of Yankee Stadium and the lefty-righty makeup of the Milwaukee batting order are factors weighing heavily in the Yankees' favor.

Says Aaron Youngest:

According to Sal's calculations, if the Yankees start left handers Whitey Ford and Bobby Shantz in the first two games at the stadium, they should pretty well neutralize Milwaukee's left-handed hitting strength, furnished largely by Ed Mathews, Wes Covington and young Bob Hazle.

"Joe Adcock doesn't pull the ball very well," Maglie analyzed. "The Stadium isn't his type of ball park. Red Schoendienst isn't as apt to hurt you anywhere nearly as much hitting right-handed in this park as left-handed, either."

"Of course, Hank Aaron is the one guy who'll be tough to handle in any park," Maglie conceded. "He's a real great hitter and it doesn't make much difference to him whether a right-hander or a lefty is pitching. I think he'll be the toughest of the Milwaukee hitters to stop."

Turning his attention to the Braves' pitching staff, Maglie tabbed lefty Spahn as the one who could give the Yankees the most trouble.

"He's experienced and he's smart," Sal commented. "He really knows how to pitch." Maglie added that Spahn would enjoy the same left-handed advantages as the Yankee southpaws.

Ineligible to Sit on Bench

When it comes to defense, Maglie conceded the Braves equality only at two positions. He feels that Johnny Logan of the Braves can hold his own with Gil McDougald and Schoendienst is as good a fielder as the Yankee second baseman.

"But if you match man for man at any of the other positions, you have to give the Yankees the defensive edge," Maglie maintained.

Manager Casey Stengel may not be able to use Maglie's arm in the series, but there's nothing to stop him from exploiting Sal's brain. The crafty old-timer is a walking encyclopedia of information on National League hitters.

Stengel would like to have Maglie sitting beside him on the Yankee bench during the series, but ineligible series players are not permitted to do so.

"He'd be more valuable than I am," Stengel quipped as he wishfully mulled over the thought.

Spartans Lose Two Players for Rest of Season

By United Press

Michigan State's Spartans have lost two football players for the rest of the season with right halfback Jimmy Wulff declared scholastically ineligible and senior tackle Adam Sieminski out with a fractured arm.

Wulff, Evanston, Ill., was regarded as a third stringer, but had been expected to see considerable action as a substitute. Sieminski broke his arm in Saturday's scrimmage.

Northwestern welcomed back two players who had been sidelined with injuries. Fullbacks Ed Quinn and Frank Knowles rejoined the team Monday. The only injury suffered in Saturday's scrimmage was to right end Cliff Peart, and he was expected to be back in action soon.

Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn promoted Danny Lewis to the first string left halfback post as a result of his recent performances. Bruhn also switched Danny Lanpher and Jim Heineke from guard to tackle to bolster the Badgers' injury hampered line.

Coach Murray Warmath of Minnesota sent his team through light workouts Monday to give the squad a rest after a rough week-end scrimmage. Nursing minor injuries were halfback Bill Martin, guard Paul Barrington and quarterback Bobby Cox.

Hickey Throws TD Passes

Purdue eased off in its drills because of injuries. First string tackles Nick Muley and Wayne Farmer and No. 2 left tackle Ed Dwyer still were out with injuries. Sophomores Bob Becker and Jerry Beabout alternated at left tackle.

Indiana's football squad went through its first secret practice session of the season, and acting Coach Bob Hicks said the Hoosiers still were far from ready for their opener against Michigan State. Tailback Willie Jones was kept out of the drill with a minor knee injury.

At Illinois, sophomore quarterback Bob Hickey and junior tackle Bruce Dollahan were upped to the first squad on the basis of their showings in scrimmage sessions. Hickey threw five touchdown passes in Saturday's workout. He replaces veteran signal caller Bill Offenbecher.

Michigan's first string quarterback Jim Van Pelt returned to the lineup after being out for a week with a leg injury. The Wolverines took it easy in Monday's workout.

Notre Dame began single afternoon sessions today following a short line scrimmage and conditioning workout in Monday's last morning and afternoon drill. Coach Terry Brennan said the Irish showed considerable improvement in its weekend scrimmage.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

West Frankfort high school basketball fans received good news last week when it was announced Valdo Zavich, 6-5 senior center, would be eligible for the coming season.

Zavich came to this country in 1948, the family coming after the father left Yugoslavia in 1939 and established a bakery business in West Frankfort. Passports showed Valdo to have been born Sept. 14, 1937 and that would have made him 20 years this month and not eligible for the coming cage season.

However, his parents stated the birth date on the passport was in error, but were unable to present proof. A search as been underway for sometime and just recently the Yugoslav consul received records that establish Valdo's birth date as April 18, 1938.

Last week West Frankfort school superintendent L. Goebel Patton met in Chicago with IHSA and Yugoslav consul officials. The April 18, 1938 birth date was accepted by everyone as being authentic, so now Zavich has another season of eligibility.

West Frankfort had several veterans back and with the addition of Zavich the Red Birds look to be southern Illinois' strongest in the pre-season guessing.

Jim Williams, who played lots of football and starred in track at Harrisburg high school, is considered an outstanding candidate for the Georgetown College, Ky, Tigers. Jim is a ministry student.

At HTHS Jim earned four football letters playing at end and three track letters as a distance runner.

He is expected to play end for the Tigers, who open their season Sept. 28. The schedule has three games at home and three away. Home games are Oct. 5, Oct. 12 and Oct. 26.

W. A. Book, Thompsonville high school principal, has been elected president of the Little Egyptian Basketball conference. George Karoski, also of Thompsonville, is secretary and William Auten, Valier, is treasurer.

South Seven conference teams made a fine showing against non-loop opponents in the opening of the 1957 grid schedule. Herrin, Mt. Vernon, West Frankfort and Benton came up with decisive wins, Harrisburg and Centralia dropped extremely close decisions and only Marion lost by a big score.

The new Southern Illini conference fared pretty good, Eldorado and Johnston City scoring victories, Metropolis, McLeansboro and Norris City taking losses.

Norris City, playing its first year of varsity football and naturally short on experience, suffered a 66-0 walloping at Mayfield, Ky.

Jerry Engram of Johnston City and Jack Fowler of Eldorado got away to a running start for area scoring honors, each scoring three TDS and Fowler also had a PAT for a total of 19 points.

Bull Pups Lose 45-0 Grid Tilt To Murphysboro

The Harrisburg Bull Pups dropped a 45-0 decision to the Murphysboro freshman-sophomore football team at Taylor Field Monday night.

Murphysboro's lead was but 13-0 at halftime but the Jackson county boys ran roughshod the final two periods. The first down margin was 9 to 2, with Murphy getting away for long runs to score.

First tally came in the second quarter when Gene Ward went over from the one, and Ward scored again in this period when he raced 23 yards into the end zone. Bobby Hall ran for the extra point on the second tally.

In the third quarter Murphy scored three touchdowns with Hall racing for 25 and 60-yard touchdowns runs and Paul Hoffman going around end for a 37 yard jaunt to make the count 31-0.

In the fourth period David Bedinger scampered 56 yards and a good placekick made the count 39-0. Finally tally came when Randy Thompson passed 21 yards to Mike Lane.

Two Murphysboro touchdowns were called back because of infractions.

Harrisburg Coach Jim Beers used the following players:

Centers, J. Pickford, J. Ellis and H. Wirth; guards, J. Roberts, J. Abney, D. Goolsby and R. Starnes; tackles, L. Browder, K. Smith, F. Winders, M. Summers; ends, G. Neely, J. Donovan, B. Mitchell, A. Johnson, J. Meier; quarterbacks, L. Conrad and L. Baldwin; halfbacks, R. Aldridge, L. Ledford, D. Patton, J. Uter and N. Hicks; fullbacks, J. Kane and B. Karnes.

Braves End Losing Streak To Defeat Phillies, 5-1, Extend Lead to Three Games

By United Press

Those "pallbearers" had better find themselves another funeral somewhere because the suddenly come-alive Milwaukee Braves don't look as if they're going to play the fall guys for a National League burial party.

Just when everyone was despairing of his chances, that Milwaukee "patient" showed a decided turn for the better today and it could be the crisis is past, what with the end of a three-game losing streak and a more comforting three-game lead in the race.

The Braves brought the big change about when they snapped out of their slump with a 14-hit attack that overcame the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-1, Monday night.

Gone was the morgue-like atmosphere which had pervaded the Braves' clubhouse following Sunday's loss to the Phils. Absent also

Postwar Price Spiral Adds $20 Week to Family Budget

NEW YORK (U.P.)—The price spiral which has taken place during the postwar period has added around $20 a week in costs to the average family's budget.

Inflation has increased the cost of almost everything that Americans buy. It now takes $1 to buy what 50 cents would have bought in 1939 or what 80 cents would have bought in 1949.

Consumer expenditures give a good idea of the demand wrought by inflation. Between 1947 and 1956, consumer spending for goods and services jumped 102 billion dollars to 267 billion dollars. However, economists estimate that 45 billion dollars of the increase reflected higher prices.

This means that only 57 billion dollars went for additional goods and services. The rest was needed just to stay even.

It's Mirage to Some

Economists point out that the 45 billion dollars absorbed by higher costs means that postwar inflation placed a tax of almost $300 on every man, woman and child in the country.

Many Americans have been able to improve their living standards despite this inflationary spiral, principally because their incomes have increased at an even faster pace.

However, Dr. Marcus Nadler, consulting economist to the Hanover Bank of New York, said a growing segment of the population has found that our unprecedented prosperity is only "a mirage."

He said this applies not only to those living on social security benefits, pension funds and other fixed assets, but also to those wage and salaried individuals whose incomes have not kept pace with the climbing cost of living.

How Spending Increased

The biggest item in the average family budget is food including tobacco and alcoholic beverages, accounting for about 32.5 cents out of every dollar spent. Americans spent $86,400,000,000 for these commodities in 1956, an increase of 48.8 per cent over 1947.

Next on the list is housing and operation of the household, taking around 26 cents of each dollar. This expenditure rose 75 per cent to $68,900,000,000.

Third biggest item is transportation, including the purchases of new and used cars, accounted for 11.4 cents of each dollar spent. The total last year was $30,300,000,000, up 97 per cent over 1947.

These three budget items alone accounted for about 70 cents of the average family's cost-of-living dollar.

The rest is spent for clothing, medical care, personal business, recreation (now a 14 billion dollar business), personal care, private education and research, religious and welfare and foreign travel.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Steam shovels, bulldozers and other earth-moving equipment have replaced shovels, picks and human backs in digging deep. When we wish to lay a foundation for a tremendous structure, we use mechanized means for getting down to bedrock. We save a great amount of time with this new process, but we have lost the appreciation of the hardship through which men used to have to go.

In dealing with people we are inclined to see surface conditions. We overlook the need for digging through the causes for the ways in which people think and act. If we can lend a hand to others we may be able to help them dig deep into their lives and find out why they have followed the easy human ways which often lead to dead ends in their lives.

As we dig we shall uproot sin and failure. We shall find God as the bedrock on which to build the foundation of our lives. God will not be a casual part of our manner, but the basic part of every thought and act.
